Hon. Secretary:

F. C. RUSSELL.

23 Karnat Avenue, East Malvern, SE.5. UL4422.

FOREWORD.

Once again I have pleasure in addressing all old comrades of the 22nd Battalion in the hope that despite the hard going of the past few years we are all settling down to the task of ascertaining what we can do to assist those less fortunate than ourselves.

There are some of the old 22nd who, through pride, will not let their pals know that they are feeling the pinch; therefore, it is our duty to endeavour to help in a practical way whenever possible.

If anyone knows of a case of hardship or a member on the sick list please let the Secretary know, and contact will be made.

Fred Russell and the Committee are all out to carry on the traditions of the old Unit, so do your share towards helping this work.

Keep in touch with your local branch of the R.S.L. and renew your subscriptions, as by so doing you help in a combined effort to build up a lasting comradeship, which will remain after we have passed on.

To your Committee, Secretary, and Treasurer, I say "Thanks for a job well done during the past year."

Make the attendance at the Anzac March a bumper parade this year.

H. CRAIG, President.

GENERAL.

The Battalion Association continues to thrive, and although growing old, maintains its vitality; in fact, like old wine, it is improving with age. In presenting this, the 4th "civilian" issue of the Echo, the committee feel that we have had another good year in keeping the Battalion spirit alive, and have pleasure in making this report of activities.

Experience has shown that the distribution of the paper at the march does not help very much, and this year it is being posted to every member prior to Anzac Day. Consequently, members will be informed of the latest news of one another before the parade.

The personal parts are published without apology. We know how someone loses publicity if the hand is held out through the "Echo." Space does not permit reference to every member, and those omitted need not feel that they are less noticeable. Their names will come.

ANZAC DAY MARCH.

As the "Echo" is distributed this year before the march, we are able to give more details regarding our part in it.

Contact with our local and joint groups of members will be in London's Street, Battalion Council and Federation Societies, month after the month, and for the rest of the year, as we will have plenty of time to meet each other. I shall endeavour to see members at the various joint meetings, even if I am not able to appear. Let a light be left burning for us here at 10, and those not appearing will feel that they have done their duty by answering the roll call.

Assembly time is 1 p.m. at the rendezvous, but that does not prohibit anyone arriving at 9 a.m. if he so desires. We congregate so seldom these days that Anzac Day provides the opportunity of meeting again on common ground, comrades of 30 years ago.

Furthermore, the large muster of members will permit the button sellers to get around to everybody. Our only source of income is members' contributions of 1/- for a button on Anzac Day. It has been found that our chaps want to wear a distinctive button both on that day and afterwards. In order to fulfil that desire and at the same time assist our funds, special buttons are procured each year. One shilling is not very much to pay for the privilege of a yearly membership of an association such as ours, and the Committee is confident that members approve the means of collecting it.

HOSPITALIZATION.

From time to time many of our members are admitted to hospital, and in the absence of information to that effect, it would appear that we are indifferent to their welfare. In times of sickness a visit from members of his old unit would be very much appreciated by a man in hospital.

Let the Secretary know of such cases and every effort will be made to assure that at least one visit from the Association representative will be made during the period in hospital.

Periodical visits will be arranged to Repatriation Institutions to call on our members therein.

1947 RE-UNION.

In the course of our history—now on 30 years—we have conducted some memorable functions, but the palm for a Re-union must go to the 1947 effort.

Experience has shown that the departure from 5th May—a most significant date in our records—to Show Week had been justified. Furthermore, the selection of the Town Hall for its venue has received the approbation of all. The surroundings are much more in keeping with our idea of a suitable premises, and it is readily accessible to members from all areas.

The success which accompanied our last function has prompted us to reserve the same room—Upper Supper Room—for Friday, 1st October, 1948, so this intimation is given in advance. Members will receive further information prior to the Re-union.

Our records show that over 220 attended the party and, in the language of police reporting, "a good time was had by all." So much so that members of letters of appreciation were received from members who had attended for the first time, and also from those who had been regular attenders. Such comment is very much appreciated by the Committee.

As the number present was only 25 per cent. of our strength, a short report on the proceedings will be sent to "absent members." Our guests were Mr. G. M. Wallace, State President of the Dads' Association; Presidents of the 21st, 23rd and 24th Battalion Associations; and two representatives of the 2/22nd. All spent an enjoyable evening with us. We congratulate ourselves on the fact that each speaker from those associations, in responding to the toast of "Our Guests," was given a courteous hearing. Our esteemed Past President, Dr. Craig, was called on to respond to his toast at 11.10 p.m., and was listened to respectfully.

After the show, our guests before departing expressed their appreciation of this fact in particular, so we can feel gratified that our functions are worthy of us.

President Harold Craig occupied the chair, assisted by Vice-Presidents Harold Yawdon and Jack Tallyn. The catering arrangements were in the hands of Watron Bros., and the fare provided must have been good, for none remained—not as was the case at the "Feeding of the Five Thousand." Remarkable as it may seem, the liquor supply was ample, although a very near approach to a drought at 10.15 p.m. necessitated a scrounging party headed by the Secretary going out for replenishments. The objective was attained, and "two prisoners" brought in. The Battalion established an all-time record, for those two fitkins were consumed in fifteen minutes! The two stewards in charge of decanting—N. Stevens and J. Russell—ouch for the timing, and neither was drunk at the time; they were kept too busy to have time to imbibe.

The financial side is worthy of commendation—£12/3/5 profit—our best result after years of experimenting. We confidently anticipate a repetition of this "do" for our 1948 celebration.

Naturally, such a muster of the 22nd Battalion provided items for personal paras, on some of them. Our scribe has dug out the following gentlemen as worthy of comment—some of them were more qualified for abuse, but we of the 22nd are very lenient.

Amongst those absent were Colonel Wiltshire, in Sydney; and W. Cawthorn, in London. The Colonel was most perturbed that he would have to miss the show, but business calls must be obeyed—even by C.O's.

Owing to his hurried departure, Mrs. Cawthorn wrote an apology for Walter. After meeting a few of us, Mrs. Cawthorn now appreciates why Walter is so attached to his original unit. Self-praise is a recommendation, after all.

It was a pleasure to extend a welcome to Alf Miller, who had for years been a regular absentee from our shows. From now on he promises to be just as assiduous in attendances.

George Kenyon, of Camperdown, made his first appearance and has now concluded—as have so many others—that he has been missing out for years. So many had not seen George since Marcimelle that they, and he, expressed amazement at the progress of anno domini; and the reminiscences!!!! Kohn Bros., Sid and Jack, who had shared a tent with George and six others in Broadmeadows in 1915, collaborated all right. They could have extended the session, but the last train left at midnight.

Alan Meakin, of Geelong, who was so pleased with the expenditure of time and petrol from his burg in order to attend the Reunion, wrote us in most eulogistic terms of the evening. As to be expected, he and Alf (Lofty) Thompson got together. They were inseparable in the battalion. Lofty is still "lofty"—age has not diminished him, nor lessened his appreciation of amber fluid.

Bill Matthews also let his head go. He and Vic Moore spent the evening yarning and drinking in equal proportions. The drinking had to stop with the supply of liquor, but the "trapping" continued.

Rather "late-ish" Leslie Turner blew in and proceeded to make up for lost time. Les had to tear himself away from his firm's social night, but the Battalion attraction won out. Les just couldn't miss it.

We were pleased to give a special welcome to Ray Dooley—Pat's small brother—who had arranged the broadcasted announcements of our function over his commercial network. Apart from this free write-up, we have officially thanked Mr. Dooley for his courtesy.

No re-union would be complete without Tim Dorgan. What a sight to behold—he and Opie Hunt growing sentimental, with Wally Aimers and Don Phillips aiding and abetting them.

Incidentally, Wally brought along his son, John of 2/5th Commandos, who carried on the family tradition in the recent stoush. John's main regret is that he did not wear the "Red and Purple" diamond in "his" war, but of course we have to admit there were other units in the 1st A.I.F., and a Battalion strength is only 1,000 anyway. However, pride in the 22nd is now shared by Aimers senior and junior.

Another old-timer to be on the I.O.T. was Roy Hunter. It is some years since he appeared, and he is still wondering why he stayed away before. However, we do not hold that against him.

Lou Pimblett, of Sydney, had done some skulldodgery to arrange holidays in Melbourne at Reunion time. Apart from putting on weight, he looks much the same as that self-drawn cartoon of himself which appeared in the original "Echo." Maybe Lou will find it a business necessity to be in Melbourne on 1st October next.

Bill Beacall—aged 74—brought along his son-in-law, Wally Smith, who in past years had taken an active part in helping Bill with catering arrangements at our Anzac Day shows at Thornburyrolf. Much to our regret those shows are now "napoo."

Walter Tins, accompanied by his two sons, Walter of the 14th/32nd Bn., and Keith, of the 39/7th Bn., was there. Young Walter, speaking for the trio, said it was the best show ever, and Walter, senior, has already made his reservation for the 1948 party.

We like to encourage this "Father and Son" mutual participation of our functions. No doubt there were others there, but details have not been supplied to us. However, we want to see more of it.

A notable absentee from the Reunion was Stan Tyler, who, we learned later, was very ill at the time. However, Stan is now standing upright again, but very willowy; not like Roy Thomas, who is expanding in every direction. He must have a plastic framework, or elastic skin. Roy came all the way from Shepparton to be at the show. In between reunions he looks after Public Works affairs up there.

Just prior to our Reunion date, Ted Draper suffered a double bereavement in the loss of his wife, and on the previous day his father-in-law. Numerous enquiries regarding Ted were made at the Reunion, and all expressed their sympathy for him.

REUNION CONTRIBUTIONS.

Members will note in the financial statement that our annual Reunion showed a profit of £12 3/6. That very satisfactory result would not have been attained if our country and absentee members had not contributed so generously. The thanks of us all are due to those members who, although not able to be present at the show, sent along donations towards it. They felt that they were at least participating, and by way of acknowledgment and appreciation, the following list is appended.

Geo. Carter, Welshpool.	Ivor Birtwistle, Perth.
H. C. Haines, Hawthorn.	Les Speak, Launceston.
E. Draper, Ascot Vale.	Fair Evans, Stanhope.
G. Gilham, Hobart.	H. B. Noakes, Brighton.
A. R. Wiltshire, Melbourne.	P. Cooper, Yarraville.
L. Purchett, Sydney.	H. Jackson, Oakleigh.
Mat Mitchell, Heidelberg Hospital.	K. Anderson, Portland.
J. E. Hughes, Dumbalk.	F. Benn, Hawthorn.
J. Chard, Brunswick.	O. P. Habel, Murtoa.
A. G. Parry, Meenivan.	J. C. Quiggan, Shepparton.
J. Devine, North Fitzroy.	J. S. Grayland, Camperdown.
J. Stillman, Stanhope.	W. Dunk, Queenscliff.
A. R. Hampton, Irymple.	H. Craker, Glen Iris.
T. J. Claridge, Macarthur.	E. R. W. Smith, Koimbo.
W. Cannon, Albury.	M. Davey, The Basin.
L. Harricks, Ararat.	A. Chapman, St. Kilda.
G. W. Cavanagh, N. Fitzroy.	T. G. Robinson, Lemnos.
J. Lyle, Kyabram.	J. F. Dunne, Black Rock.
E. D. Cobb, Red Cliffs.	Milburn Clark, Maldon.
	Reg Crowley, Ballarat.

Receipt of donations from the following members at the Reunion is acknowledged:—

P. Thurlow.	J. B. O'Neill.
C. Ponder.	H. Tilley.
A. Menkin.	G. Kenyon.
R. Peshallorick.	J. Urquhart.
L. W. Murrey.	T. Snowden.

Many others made contributions at the door, but no records of the donors were taken.

MEMBERSHIP SUBSCRIPTIONS.

In like manner, as in past years subscriptions have been received from members scattered over Australia, and by way of acknowledgment and thanks, their names are listed as follows. £14/15/4 was received from these contributors, apart from the membership subs. amounting to £13 received on Anzac Day from the sale of buttons. With a spirit such as that actuating our members, the 22nd Battalion Association is due for a very long life. Who was it that said: "The first 30 years are the hardest?"

P. Greenberg, Woodend.	W. Gascoyne, Ascot Vale.
C. Fulton, Adelaide.	H. A. Patterson, Seaford.
R. Groves, Adelaide.	W. J. Foskett, Windsor.
A. Ferguson, Adelaide.	J. F. Dunne, Black Rock.
W. Cornish, Swan Hill.	H. Craker, Glen Iris.
J. Graham, Nyah.	W. Cannon, Albury.
W. J. Miller, Hawthorn.	J. Lyle, Kyabram.
S. D. Blyth, Waf Wal.	D. W. Edwards, Mitcham.
J. W. Ash, Boronia.	C. E. Wilson, Brighton.
L. A. Kennedy, Croydon.	J. Power, South Melbourne.
D. Deasy, Beac.	H. Wilkins, Nyah.
T. W. Seibell, Mitcham.	R. Mitchell, Preston.
L. Binns, Antwerp.	C. R. Crisp, Hawthorn.
A. Buchanan, Werrimah.	J. C. Quiggan, Shepparton.
(N.S.W.)	W. J. Anderson, Northcote.
A. G. Swan, Rupanyup.	A. Cook, Malvern.
F. C. Sands, Castlemaine.	E. Anderson, Bright.
L. Snell, Castlemaine.	J. Cleland, Bright.
F. E. G. O'Brien, Coburg.	R. J. Wright, Camberwell.
E. Lindsay, Sandringham.	G. Cottam, Ringwood.
L. Speak, Launceston.	G. Thompson, Beechworth.
H. Bennett, Geelong.

PERSONAL.

Len Kennedy is still "out of action" and living quietly at Croydon. He had a few weeks in Heidelberg last year. Should any member be in that vicinity, give Len a call. Lincoln's Road will find him.

Mat Mitchell now considers he belongs to Heidelberg Hospital. Mat, unfortunately, is a cot case, but retains his cheerfulness and is now an amateur "P. & A. Parade" performer. Mat was selected to broadcast from his bed a Christmas Greeting at a special broadcast conducted at the hospital on Christmas Eve. Norman McCance's job is in jeopardy.

Donald Lechte, of Mount Waverley, is basking in reflected glory. His nephew, John G. Lechte, M.L.A., is the Member for Oakleigh, and naturally Donald is proud of his family connection.

The Member for Preston, W. Rathvon, V.C., M.L.A., is, of course, well known to us all. Bill is only occasionally at his home these days. He sleeps in relays and takes his meals in tabloid form.

Cecil Byrne is still with B.C.O.F. and now has charge of purchases for amenities. Cecil knows all about Jap traders and their habits. Strikes a pretty hard bargain too, and the troops get the benefit. His letters indicate he quite likes the life up there.

We were pleased to receive a letter from W. H. Bunning, of London. It is some years since we contacted him last. He has, amongst other things, taken on the secretaryship of the Australian Ex-Service Association, and is also an active member of the branch of Legacy formed in London on 2nd December last. Visitors to London may call on John to obtain first-hand knowledge of life in the United Kingdom. Anyway, he can give a first-hand description of the Battle for Britain—he took an active part.

W. J. Cauthorn has returned to India to help "Supremo" govern that benighted country. It was at his suggestion, when in London last, that W. H. Bunning contacted us.

Jim Alderson has not hit Melbourne since his visit en route India to Sydney; one of these days the wanderlust will bring him to Melbourne. We are waiting to give him a Battalion greeting.

Ralph Murphy, of Newcastle, paid one of his rare visits to Melbourne last year. He, George Fealy, and Robert Fussell comprise the 22nd Nucleus in Newcastle. They rendezvous—very often—at a local hostelry for mutual collaboration.

No. 438, John McLeod, now 63 years of age, wrote from Queens-town, Tasmania. Age does not affect John much, for, in addition to his letter, he forwarded a poem of his own composition. Queens-town is recommended to any member who suffers from a perpetual thirst—the annual rainfall there is 25 feet.

In case members are in doubt, the figure adopted in all Australian papers last June for advertising Dunlop products was our comrade Charlie Hildebrand. The special hairdo for the audition was worthy of Clark Gable. Copies of the paper are available from C. E. Hildebrand.

Tom Setchell struck bad luck last year when a fire destroyed his home at Glen Iris. Perforce Tom had to seek other location for his family.

Tom W. Setchell (Snr.) is still going strong at 73 and now living at Mitcham, fully occupied with agricultural pursuits. The 40-hour week is no good to him; he works that long daily.

Bill Cornish, of Swan Hill, has the right idea. He wrote to give reports of seven other ex-members in his district, and through him those seven have been enrolled. That's what we want; others can copy Bill's example; the Secretary will attend to details.

Syd Blyth, of Wal Wal, is a sheepman, and although now 74, attends to the "woollies" himself. You all know what "cows" sheep are! Syd had a rather serious operation last year and a long spell in hospital, but recovered well.

J. W. Ash, of Boronia, sent along a hefty sub, and good wishes to all. He takes things quietly up there nowadays.

Anyone passing through Benac should not fail to look up Dinny Deany. Dinny follows his old vocation in that town, but members cannot expect free service nowadays. Dennis is a businessman and there is no "buckshee."

We must have a dig at Laurie Binns, of Antwerp. In last "Echo" we commented on the size of his "billet doux." Laurie let his head go this year, for he used a full sheet of notepaper to express his sentiments and advise of a sub, Prodigal waste!—but we did appreciate the notice taken of our admonition.

Frank O'Brien has had spells in and out of Caulfield over the past year, but forwarded a sub, on Anzac Day from hospital just the same. Thanks, Frank, and we hope you will soon be domiciled permanently at home.

Les Speak is now well dug in at Launceston, and forwarded a postal note from there. Usually postal notes go to Tasmania, not from it. Les paid a visit to the mainland last year and reports have it that the climate over there is increasing his avoirdupois. We are alarmed at the future prospect.

Charlie Fulton disturbed the calm of Melbourne by two fleeting visits last year. What a wonderful personality that man has, that without making any effort he creates a feeling of joviality everywhere he goes. No wonder he had a disturbing influence on Colonel Davis.

Hector Patterson, of Seaford, was marooned there last Anzac Day through transport difficulties—his first absence for years. He is certain he will be at the march this year even if he has to walk. He flatters himself, but it is a bet he will be there all the same.

Walter Foshitt, of Windsor, attended the last Anzac Day march per medium of the broadcast. Walter had lumbago, and you know how that incapacitates old soldiers. However, Walter sent a peace offering in the form of a sub.

If Frank Dunne misses the next parade a "dim view" will be taken of his delinquencies. For a young man like him there is no excuse for such slothfulness. We are a little mollified by his sub, but will not in future accept that in lieu of personal attendances.

Harry Craker, of Glen Iris, also donated and excused himself for non-attendance. Both sub. and excuse are accepted under duress.

Bill Cannon and Bob Bowle commune occasionally (?) at the Commercial Club, Albury. From other sources we have learned that the management of the club are considering taking action to curb their boastfulness of the doings of the 22nd. The Association condones their behaviour and zeal, but must remain neutral.

John Lyle, of Kyabram, wrote on 3rd May, after receiving his "Echo," that the paper reminded him that 30 years previously, on that date, he and Tim Twites—with other members of the Battalion—"hopped over" at Bullecourt. What memories these men have.

D. W. Edwards (ex-Sergeant), of Mitcham, has had over two years of hospital treatment—result of an accident—and was on crutches last Anzac Day. In spite of it all he responded nobly to the call of the Association by subscribing. Nothing will stop some men.

Jack Power, of South Melbourne, 70 years of age, sent along his sub., and regrets that his legs were now too "wooky" to permit of marching. Join the crowd at the assembly point, Jack. Dr. Craig will excuse you from further duty for the day.

Charles Wilson, Brighton, very much appreciated the "Echo" and was good enough to say so. Thanks for sub., Charles.

Harry Wilkin, of Nyah, was waging a private war on mice last Anzac Day. He needed a stick to keep them away while he set the traps. We believe Harry was exaggerating. What did he want the traps for if the stick would do?

Ralph Mitchell, No. 1 on the Battalion Nominal Roll, wrote from Preston. He has never been to a reunion—what he has missed. After the account in this "Echo" of last year's stunt we look for Ralph at our next.

C. R. Crisp, of Hawthorn, at 74, has not had very good health for a year or two. We regret to learn of this, Charles, and hope to hear of an improvement before long.

Bill Anderson, Northcote, contacted us after receiving last "Echo." Bill has suffered a breakdown in health and is now superannuated. After a very active life Bill was not too enamoured at his enforced idleness. He was most appreciative of the unit paper.

Reg Crowley, of Ballarat, sustained a broken arm recently. Fortunately (??) it was the left, so his elbow-bending exercises were not interfered with. News of the last Reunion has reached Ballarat, for Reg is coming down for the 1943 show. Perhaps he will bring Oscar Matthews with him. Oscar is now settled up there, married and mellowed.

Through the good offices of George Kenyon, we have established contact with O. J. ("Roudy") Hall, who is now a primary producer of either ostriches, ostrich feathers or ostrich eggs in Germiston, Transvaal, South Africa. "Roudy" is now on our roll and will, in due course, receive this "Echo." He is our first known member in the Union of South Africa. We expect any date to receive a line or two from some ex-member in China or Patagonia.

Clive Waxman maintains liaison from the United States. Roly Ferritt is still in France. From the lack of letters we conclude Roly has forgotten how to write in English. Does he think we can't "comprenez Francais"?

LEST WE FORGET!

The list of comrades who have passed on is an ever-increasing one. The particulars published in this issue are gained from a variety of sources, and as far as practicable our condolences have been sent to the bereaved relatives.

Harold Baker, a very popular signaller and citizen since his return, passed on on 19th January, 1943, after a very long illness. Harold was one of those people always looking on the bright side, and ready to help others. The community is the loser by his death.

E. H. (Jack) Petersen suffered a sudden stroke which entailed his admission to Heidelberg Hospital. Unfortunately, the malady proved fatal and Jack passed on on 7th March. Prior to his illness, Jack had planned and was on the point of departure to visit his mother in Denmark. They had not met for very many years.
